Washington, Sept. 7.—The formal notice of the success of the negotiations resulting in the removal of the restrictions upon the importation of American pork into Germany has reached the department of state in the shape of the following letter addressed to Mr. Wharton by the German charge d'affairs, dated New York, Sept. 4 1891:

"Acting Secretary of State, State Department, Washington: Have the honor to inform you that restrictions placed upon importation of American pork, swine and sausages into Germany have been rescinded, provided such live pigs or hog products have been examined according to your law of March 3 and according to regulations of March 25 of this year, and are furnished with proper official certificates. VON MUMM."

SHOT FOR TRESPASS.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 7.—Anglo Volpo, an Italian, was fatally shot yesterday by Christian Haar, son of a wealthy farmer at Old Forge, for alleged trespass. Haar is in jail. Volpo's offense consisted in his picking wild grapes along the road that skirts the Haar farm. This is the third shooting that young Haar has done at alleged trespassers in the past month.

COTTON PICKERS TO STRIKE.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 7.—A newspaper here has secured a copy of the secret circular which the colored alliance is sending to the cotton pickers throughout the state. It says that the new organization of cotton pickers is 600,000 strong, and appoints Sept. 12 as the day for the strike of that body, unless their demands for $1 for every 100 pounds of cotton picked are granted.

A HITCH IN PROCEEDINGS.

Montreal, ept. 7.—There is a rumored hitch in the $4,000,000 loan lately negotiated by Premier Mercier in Paris. The French capitalists are reported to have refused to pay over the money to the province of Quebec unless the boodle charges against Mercier are disproved.

TYPHOID FEVER.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Sept. 7.—Typhoid fever is increasing in different parts of this state and a number of deaths have occurred. The disease in this vicinity has about exhausted itself but at Fairmount it is reported to be prevalent, and nearly a hundred cases are said to exist in Marshall and Ohio counties.

HIS OCCUPATION GONE.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Senor Don Prudencio Lazoano, the Chilian minister to the United States government, has given up the house which he has occupied here for some time, and, accompanied by his wife, left the city for New York. It is believed that he is on his way to Europe.

WARSHIP LOST.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—A private letter received here from Tahiti says news was received at Papeite on July 19th of the loss of the French warship Volage. The crew was saved, but the vessel is a total wreck.

Thirty Thousand Naturalized in a Year.

Paris Talks of Reform in the Divorce Laws—The Earl of Warwick's Health—General Foreign News.

London, Sept. 7.—The Russian minister of the interior is being overwhelmed with applications by foreigners who desire to become Russians subjects.

The applicants live for the most part in the western border provinces, and are chiefly Germans. It is estimated that fully thirty thousand have been naturalized during the year.

The motive is an apprehension that the government is about to take harsh measures against foreigners resident in Russia, by depriving them of the right to hold real estate and of other privileges which they have found profitable.

Much of the business of western Russia and Poland is carried on by Germans, whose expulsion would bring misery not only on themselves, but on vast numbers of native employes.

Nevertheless there is reason for the statement that a decree may shortly be looked for, taking both business and land out of the hands of foreigners and compelling them to give up their property in Russia, as the Jews have done, for anything that is offered.

A St. Petersburg correspondent says the czar is resolved to have no one within Russian bounds who is not a subject of Russia.

A Paris dispatch says a strong public sentiment is developing in that city in favor of a modification of the divorce law that will restrain some of the evils that have grown rampant under it. The private divorce detective has become an intolerable nuisance, hesitating at nothing, in order to obtain evidence, and manufacturing it when it can be got no other way. He also, as appears by a case now in the hands of the police, is capable of blackmail and does not stop short of deliberate theft.

The case in question is that of Madame Daparet, a lady in business, who was spied upon by a fellow named Card. She suspected a snare, and succeeded in turning the detective over to the police, who are now hunting up his record, which proves to be very unsavory. He first took 400 francs from the husband to get evidence, and then demanded 2,000 francs from the wife as the price of not revealing what he claimed to know, to the husband. When he could not get 2,000 francs, he deliberately stole 500 francs, and was arrested.

The Earl of Warwick, father of Lord Brooke, who is husband of Lady Brooke, of baccarat scandal fame, is very sick. He is periodically subject to fainting fits, and is expected to die in one before long. He is over 73 years of age, and has been in feeble health for some time. Lady Brooke has of late kept in the background and shown a disposition to avoid the social glare. Lord Brooke seems as much devoted to her as ever, and if any divorce was meditated there is no sign of such feeling now.

The Russian grand manoeuvres this autumn will take place in the governments of Kieff, Podolice and Volhynia. Upwards of 100,000 men will be mashed together, and as these are to be drawn from the interior of Russia there will be diminution of the immense force of Russian troops already stationed near the Austrian frontier.

On the contrary, many of the troops engaged in the manoeuvres will be added to the existing garrisons and serve to swell the vast body of men ready at the briefest notice to be precipitated on the Austrian empire.

The Vienna cabinet, it is stated, is fully alive to the situation and doing the best that can be done to counteract. There is an army of Austrian spies in western Russia and the war office at Vienna is kept minutely informed as to every movement of the Russian troops.

The latest advices from Madagascar represent the Hovas as in a condition bordering on revolt against French dictation. They are only restrained by the determination of the ruling prime minister to acquiesce in the situatoin at present.

The free schools, now open as such under the education act, are receiving a remarkable increase in attendance, thus fully refuting those who predicted the failure of the system.

WENT OUT TO SEA.

A Waterspout Attracts Attention at Asbury Park.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 7—The visitiors who journeyed to the beach Saturday to watch the unusally heavy sea were treated to a sight rarely witnessed near shore. About 9 o'clock the wind was blowing furiously from the northeast. Suddenly the sea at a spot near the shore was unusually agited and as the eyes of all were directed to the spot, a huge waterspout formed and began moving seaward in a southeasterly direction.

The volume of water was balloon-shaped and was fully 300 feet high. There were no vessels in its track, but Tyler Emmons, a fisherman, narrowly escaped being caught by the mountain of water. He saw it approaching and pulled his boat out of the way of the swirling column, which passed within one hundred yards of him.

The water spout left in its wake a broad track of foaming water, and the incoming breakers rolled mountain high for half an hour after the spout disappeared.

PRINCE RUSSELL AGAIN.

Shady Transactions by Young Harrison.

How He Schemed to Get Revenge

On the Bank President Who Would Not Loan Money on Certain Securities.

New York, Sept. 7.—The latest caper of Russell B. Harrison is to play the role of a private financial detective. Controller of the currency, Richard Lacey, was called here, but it was not learned until to-day what the object of his visit was. It leaked out that Russell Harrison has been the cause of his coming. The mystery surrounding the visit is explained in the following story from a gentleman who is in a position to know:

Several months ago Russell Harrison called on Gen. Louis Fitzgerald, president of the Mercantile Trust company, and a director in the Western National bank, for the purpose of securing a loan on some western railroad securities. Gen. Fitzgerald did not like the collateral of the road and declined to make the loan. Two days later "Prince" Russell rushed into Gen. Fitzgerald's office and asked him this question: "You're a director in the Western National bank, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, don't you know that you are issuing silver certificates against bullion, contrary to law."

"No, I don't," said the general, sharply, "and anyway, I am not the Western national bank; I am only a director there."

To the remark Harrison answered: "Well, I want to tell you, general, that this would not be permitted if attention were called to it." The general made no direct reply. But he again refused the loan which Harrison asked for.

The fact that Russell Harrison had questioned the authority of the Western National Bank to issue these certificates was verified by Controller Lacey's visit. He came here to talk the matter over with Assistant Treasurer Ellis H. Roberts and others. It was ascertained that the attention of the bank had been called to it, and that Controller Lacey and President Brayton Ives of the bank had been conferring since last Feruary in regard to a settlement of some kind. It appears that when the controller learned that the bank was issuing silver certificates against bullion, he argued that the bank had no authority to guarantee payment of these certificates because the bullion on which they were issued was deposited in another concern, namely the Mercantile Safe Deposit company, of which Lyman Rhodes is president. The whole argument of Lacey is based on that fact.

The national banking act forbids any national banking company guaranteeing the obligations of any outside the institution or individual. The Western National Bank, in issuing certificates of deposit against silver bullion stored in another institution, was guaranteeing the payment or delivery of that bullion by that institution, and that was a violation of the law.

The bank's answer was that the bullion was deposited with them and not with an outside institution. They had a clerk stationed at the Safe Deposit vaults to witness the receipt of the bullion and its deposit in a particular vault, to which the bank had a key. It was the same as storing bullion in their own vaults, with this difference: That the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, in return for the storage facilities, were to receive one-half of the business.

The controller has not yet arrived at any decision in regard to the rights of the bank in the premises. The general opinion is that his decision will be favorable to the bank. Whatever the decision is to be, "Prince" Russell Harrison, it is claimed, is primarily responsible. This is not added to his popularity.

MERCER REPUBLICANS.

Celina, O., Sept. 7.—The republicans of Mercer county assembled in mass convention Saturday. James J. Loughridge was made Chairman and Richard Chapman Secretary. The following ticket was nominated: Representative, Dr. Girard Bailey, of Black Creek township; Commissioner, George W. Green, of Butler township; Recorder, Chas. E. Bisel, of Dublin township; Infirmary Director, Wm. W. Schaffer, of Dublin township; Surveyor, Leason Adams, of Washington township.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Upper Sandusky, O. Sept. 7.—(Special)—While Alonze Layton was digging a cellar drain Saturday he met with a very singular accident. Standing in the trench he noticed some dirt falling down and he immediately proceeded to get out to ascertain the cause of the trouble, when the quick-sand caved in on him, burying him with the exception of his head. He remained in this position until his wife called assistance, when he was removed, sustaining a broken collarbone.

SHOT HIMSELF.

New York, Sept. 7.—Edward Rosseau, a broker living in Brooklyn, committed suicide Saturday by shooting himself in the head. No cause can be assigned for the deed.

THE OHIO CAMPAIGN.

Democrats to Make a Vigorous Fight.

The Monopolies of the Country are Against Them,

But It Only Spurs Them on to Greater Activity—The Great Gubernatorial Meeting.

Columbus, O., Sept. 7.—The managers of the democratic campaign in Ohio now very fully appreciate the work before them and recognize the advantages the republicans have in the way of patronage and full coffers.

With the national administration in the hands of the opposition and a shrewd and fearless state politician at the head of the treasury department—a man who not only dares, but does carry out his plans despite the rules that govern the civil service, in all respects and at all times a practical politician of the most advanced type—Mr. Neal and his co-workers in the battle in behalf of tariff reform know and feel the opposition that they will be called upon to contend with.

They have made no mistake in carefully looking over the entire political field and taking an account of the numerous elements, financial and otherwise, that must be overcome before success can be assured.

It is not alone the Federal administration that the Democratic party will be called upon to do battle against.

The friends of a reform of the tariff will also be opposed in more ways than one by the large and healthy monopolies that have grown up under the prohibitory system in the last few years.

All of these gigantic concerns are expected to and will contribute largely to the campaign fund, as it is pretty well understood that in the event Maj. McKinley is defeated in this state the entire prohibitory features of the present tariff will rapidly disappear.

It is the fear of the monopolists that will serve to keep the republican campaign fund full. They can well afford to come down most handsomely for a renewal of their charter, and will not willingly let go of the good thing they have so long enjoyed without a struggle.

It might be added that there are not a few democrats in Ohio identified with large monopolies who will, secretly of course, aid in the work of keeping the present system of taxation intact, so long as it contributes toward the piling up of their own fortunes.

Against all these odds the democracy has to contend in its present struggle, and it must be admitted at the start that it has no easy task before it. There is reason to believe that a very large number of the stanch and firm republicans of Ohio are in hearty sympathy with the democrats on the tariff question and will vote for the head of the democratic state ticket solely to rebuke the managers and register their protest against the collection of vast sums of money for the benefit of the various monopolies and trusts that have virtually gained control of the republican organization.

The hopes of the democrats rest largely upon the verdict of the farmers and republicans who cannot be forced longer to indorse the continuation of war taxes in time of absolute peace. In the rural districts there is likely to be a heavy falling off in the republican vote.

In the cities Governor Campbell is likely to suffer because of his inability to give all of the thousands of applicant an office. While it is true that the republicans have many advantages over their opponents, there is little doubt and uncertainty in the minds of the leading republican politicians of the state. No one can tell what the advocates of the people's party will do.

A. W. Thurman is one of the most confident of Ohio democrats. He has been about the state for the past week and reports the democracy well organized in every section and confident of success.

In all the counties good and efficient men have been chosen, while in the townships the school teachers have identified themselves with the work of the local committees, and are especially efficient in the organization of clubs made up of young men who have never voted.

Referring to the people's party Mr. Thurman says it will amount to practically nothing. He believes that the leaders themselves now fully appreciate the fact that the only way to obtain any of the reforms demanded by their platform will be to combine with the democrats and first defeat Major McKinley.

DEMOCRATIC DAY.

The democratic state executive committee has sent out invitations to every democratic governor in the United States inviting them to be present at the meeting to be held in Columbus October 6.

It is expected that the chief executives of nearly all the states will attend the governors' meeting, and there will certainly be from 25 to 30 present. Great preparations for the gathering will be made, and it is expected to surpass in point of numbers and interst any political meeting ever held in Ohio.

Excursion trains will be run on all roads, and the cheap rates will extend to Indiana, Virginia, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

A large majority of the states are ruled by democratic governors and the presence of the distinguished gentlemen would of itself be sufficient to insure the presence of a large attendance of visitors from all parts of the state, to say nothing of the opportunity offered to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by such a grand array of statesmen.

The meeting will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue until 10 o'clock at night, the intention being to have four platforms and four governors speaking from the four sides of the state house during the entire day. The time will be so divided as to give all an opportunity to speak and the democracy of the Buckeye State are going to give the visitors a hearty welcome in Ohio.

HE WILL NOT WITHDRAW.

McDowell Stands by the Soldier Convention.

Republican Schemes Fail to Induce Him to Leave the Veteran Ticket.

Cincinnati, Sept. 7.—The republican bosses are moving heaven and earth to secure the withdrawal of the veteran's candidates, but with small success.

The latest effort was an appeal in an open letter by Thomas McDougall to W. H. McDowell, candidate for recorder. He has replied as follows:

Cincinnati, Sept. 5, 1891.

Editor Post: The Commercial Gazette of September 2 contained an open letter addressed to me by Mr. Thomas McDougall. It now unfairly declines to publish my reply. Will you insert it in your paper and greatly oblige,

W. H. McDowell.

Mr. McDowell in the plainest kind of language refuses to withdraw, and says that the time has come to break the republican gang rule in Cincinnati.

TO CUT MAHONE'S WINGS.

Virginia Republicans Are After His Scalp.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Some time ago Gen. Mahone, of Virginia, chairman of the republican state committee, issued a secret circular to the chairmen of the republican county committees advising them not to call any conventions this year, but to let the alliance and democrats fight it out, implying that the republicans should help the alliance. This made the republicans of Virginia very angry.

The letter resulted in a secret conference here Thursday of 50 prominent republicans, most of them chairmen of county committees. Mahone was vigorously denounced and resolutions were passed requesting him to recall his secret circular. Should he not do so a mass convention will be called and steps taken to deprive him of his position and pave the way for a fall campaign.

MINISTER TO HAYTI.

Harrison Selects a Colored Man to Succeed Douglas.

Cape May, N. J., Sept. 7.—The president has appointed John S. Durham, of Kentucky, minister resident and consul general to Hayti. Mr. Durham is now consul at San Domingo and is a colored man of education and ability. This transfer was made also on account of the necessity of dispatch owing to the presence of yellow fever and the revolutionary troubles.

NOVEL POLITICAL CONTEST.

Two Farmer Candidates in Maryland.

The Republican Candidate Challenges His Opponent to Plow a Ten Acre Field With Him.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 7.—Col. Van Nort, the republican nominee for governor, is bent on having lots of fun out of his campaign. He is a rich old farmer, and is willing to pay for his political experience.

He was in Baltimore at the meeting of the republican state committee, and astonished the leaders of his party by the novel announcement that he was going to challenge Frank Brown, the democratic nominee for governor, to a plowing contest of a 10-acre field, to show to the farmers of Maryland which of the two candidates from a practical agricultural standpoint is entitled to their support.

Mr. Brown, while a gentleman farmer, can also handle a plow, but Farmer Van Nort says he has ploughed a ten-acre field every summer just to keep his hand in, and he is sure he can beat the democratic farmer at the plow, if not at the polls.

Brown has not yet returned from Europe, but when he does, next week, the challenge will be waiting for him.

FORAKER COMES OUT.

He Openly Bids for a Seat in the Senate.

Says That Sherman Spoiled the Still Hunt Plan and Now it Will be War.

Washington, Sept. 5.—J. Frezer Richards, formerly an employe of the census office, claims to have received a letter from ex-Governor Foraker in which the latter announces his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Senator Sherman.

He states that Governer Foraker says it was the intention of himself and friends to keep the senatorial question in the background until after the election, but that the friends of Senator Sherman have precipitated it, and now he proposes to make a vigorous campaign, and calls on all his friends to assist him.

At the same time the governor says so far as he and his friends are concerned nothing will be done to endanger the election of Major McKinley, and he is confident that Mr. Sherman's friends will be just as loyal to the state ticket as himself.

ENGLAND WILL ACT.

The Dardanelles Incident Not Settled.

Turkey's Concession to Russia Will Not be Allowed to Pass Unnoticed.

London, Sept. 7.—The semi-official statement which the Porte issued in regard to the agreement with Russia touching the passing of the Russian volunteer fleet through the Dardanelles is quickening the British foreign office in its efforts to obtain concerted action on the part of the treaty powers in demanding full explanations from the Porte.

Within two days Lord Salisbury's attitude appears to have changed from one of intended indifference into one of keen diplomatic activity.

From Chateau Cecil, where he still abides, he has worked up the officials of the foreign department here, through whom, night and day, cipher dispatches pass in a stream to and from European capitals.

A high official of the department, who was recently of the opinion that the Moscow incident would not affect the existing relations between Great Britain and Turkey, now takes the view that the Russo-Turkish agreement will make necessary an early demonstration on the part of Great Britain, even if she has to act alone.

The porte's statement is evidently intended to cover Turkey's responsibility in the event of the expected combined representations of the powers.

Lord Salisbury's position, as it is understood to have been communicated to the powers, is that the Russia-Turkish agreement is an evasion of the treaty of Paris.

Turkey could not assent to an open and flagrant violation of the treaty by giving Russia the right to send warships through the straits, but she makes concessions that amount to the same privilege in permitting the passing through the Dardanelles of a volunteer fleet equipped with guns and filled with soldiers.

Be the developments of diplomacy in the case swift or slow, British intervention ultimately appears to be inevitable.

The Paris Temps distinctly indicates that the French Government intends to support the Sultan's right to enter into a special contract with Russia outside of the articles of the treaty. With the straits trouble is directly involved the question of Egypt.

Moukitar Pasha, the Porte's commissioner in Cairo, has renewed his demand through the khedive for the evacuation of Egypt by the British. Cairo advices state if this demand is refused Moukitar Pasha will ask the sultan to recall him and to leave the post vacant as a protest against the khedive's contumacy towards the Suzerain.

The British ambassador at Constantinople, Sir Wm. White, is on the worst possible terms with the sultan, who has repeatedly made excuses to avoid seeing him, and it is reported to-night that Sir Wm. is about to be replaced.

OUR FLAG WAS INSULTED

And Our People's Property Confiscated.

Pirates Do Their Work Under the British Flag.

The Story of the Wreck of the Eldorado, Which May Cause International Complications.

New York, Sept. 7.—There is a strong possibility that the English government will be called upon to make good the damage done to a portion of the valuable cargo of the steamship Eldorado, of the Morgan line, which met with disaster recently in the Bahamas by the wreckers of the Bahama Islands.

These wreckers, who are little better than pirates, swarmed over the Eldorado as she lay helpless on one of the Bahama shoals, tried to haul down the American flag, which flew at her masthead, and were with difficulty restrained from taking forcible possession of her.

The only means of saving the ship and cargo from them was to give them permission to break out a portion of the cargo and load it on their schooners. After they had removed a good deal of the merchandise they refused to deliver it on board the steamship New York or at the port of Bimini, and Capt. Byrne of the Eldorado was obliged to take their word that they would land it at Nassau.

The character of the wreckers is a pretty safe guarantee that much of the cargo, which perforce was entrusted to their care, will not be accounted for.

At this time of the year communication between Nassau and this port is necessarily slow, and the Southern Pacific company, which operates the Morgan Line, is unable to determine as yet the loss it has sustained at the wreckers' hands.

Mr. Charles H. Tweed, the company's counsel, said to-day that he had employed counsel in Nassau to look after the company's interest, but he had not received advices from him as yet relating to the matter.

The wreckers claim the protection of the English flag, and it is claimed by many that the English government ought to be responsible for their treatment of the crews and vessels of other countries that meet with misfortune in Bahama waters.

The official report of the Eldorado's mishap was received at the office of the Southern Pacific company in this city.

It was written by Capt. H. J. Byrne, who saved the vessel's cargo from the pirates through sheer pluck and courage. His report, while concise and devoid of sensationalism, gives a good idea of the exciting experiences through which the steamship and her crew passed.

The Eldorado left New York on Saturday, August 1, with a cargo of general merchandise, estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $500,000. She was bound for New Orleans. The run down was uneventful.

On the night of August 4, the Great Isaac's Light, near the Great Bahama bank, was sighted. Ships bound from the north for New Orleans and the northern gulf ports, in order to save time, generally make for the light, and, after passing it to the westward, steer southwest through the channel skirting the western edge of the Great Bahama bank.

According to the charts the course is clear along that line. Captain Byrne steered his accustomed course on this voyage. When about nine miles southwest by west of the Great Isaac's Light on the night of August 4, the bow of the Eldorado struck heavily upon a hidden reef. The ship careened to an alarming degree, and filled rapidly. Captain Byrne ordered the engines started, and at 1 o'clock he beached the ship on a shoal with a level, sandy bottom.

Daylight found the Eldorado resting easily in her sandy bed, 10 miles south of the Great Isaac's Light. The news of the disaster spread wonderfully fast among the owners of the wrecking schooners. Captain Byrne did the utmost to save his ship, and tried unsuccessfully to dispose of the cargo.

The wrecking schooners offered to relieve him of a portion of it, but demanded twice its value. August 14 the wrecking steamer Merritt arrived from New York with a diver, and the necessary apparatus, and then the first effective work toward saving the Eldorado was begun.

The captain and first officer were the only ones of the crew on board, the Eldorado's main crew having gone to Key West on the revenue cutter McLane, which had passed by on August 7.

August 18 was the most eventful one of all that had elapsed since the disaster. Over a thousand wreckers boarded the ship as soon as they saw it was practically undefended and attempted to take possession of her. They swarmed over every part of her, and Captain Byrne was told that he was no longer her master. Very modestly he describes their attempt to lower the American flag.

"They threatened to haul down our flag," he says in his report, "and hoist the English flag in its place. But this they failed to do." With 1,000 or more lawless men, half savages for the most part clamoring for the flag to be hauled down so that the vessel might be loaded with impunity, it is plain that Captain Byrne must have presented an exceedingly bold front in order to keep it flying.

His report is barren of any self-praise. The fact remains that the flag was not lowered. The captain says that he was forced to promise to let the pirates lighter a portion of the cargo if they would leave the ship.

After they had returned to their schooner he went to Byni, which lay not far distant, where, luckily, he encountered Captain Lightburn, representing the English customs authorities. Captain Lightburn returned with him to the ship, and his presence had the effect of restraining the impetuosity of the wreckers. The Eldorado was subsequently pumped nearly dry and towed to a place of safety.

The wreckers made another onslaught soon afterward, and the captain sent to Key West for the cutter McLane. The reappearance of that craft alone saved the Eldorado from the wreckers, who had become desperate as they saw the rich prize receding from their grasp.

"The wreckers, who had lightered some of the cargo," Captain Byrnes says in his report, "positively refused to land the goods in the places I designated, and I was compelled to consign them to T. Darling & Co., Nassau."

He did not know at the time he wrote the report whether the goods had reached that firm. "The ideas of these men concerning values and salvage are beyond anything imaginable," is the way the captain describes the rapacity of the pirates. The Eldorado was finally relieved of her cargo and proceeded under her own steam to Newport News, where she is now undergoing repairs.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Fatal Accident at Muncie, Ind., Saturday.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 7.—Saturday night at 8 o'clock a distressing accident occurred at Bell Bros.' glass factories in this city which will prove fatal to one if not more. Night Watchman James McHugh went to the water supply house to turn off the pump from the artesian well.

The pump is operated by natural gas that comes from a well in the same hole from which the water runs. It is necessary for the gas to escape, keeping the room filled with the explosive.

McHugh could not shut off the pump and called Wesley Studebaker to his assistance. Just then Willie, aged 16, and Walter, aged 14, sons of Capt. E. W. Corey, foreman in the factories, stopped at the little building and Walter was asked by McHugh to hold up the lantern from the outside, but instead the lad stepped inside and a terrible explosion instantly occurred.

Walter cannot recover and McHugh's chances for recovery are meager, while the other two present a frightful appearance.

THE GROWING CROPS.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The crop bulletin contains the following:

Ohio—Corn promises well and will mature in two weeks; buckwheat is a heavy crop; clover is clean and is a good yield; wheat sewing is in progress, and the soil is in good condition for plowing and seeding.

Michigan—The weather has been too cool for a marked improvement in corn and potatoes; corn will be safe in 10 days; fall seeding is progressing.

Illinois—Corn is maturing slowly owing to continued cool weather; the soil is in excellent condition for plowing; light frost, without injury, on the 4th instant.

Indiana—Corn, though ripening slowly, continues in excellent condition; plowing for wheat nearly completed, but sowing has not yet commenced; slight frost in northern counties on the 4th.

Two Great Corporations to Go Into Court.

Western Union and Bell Telephone at War.

The Decision Rendered by Referee Lowell Does Not Meet Approval on All Sides.

New York, Sept. 7.—The World this morning says the Western Union Telegraph company and the American Bell Telephone company are about to engage in a legal battle in which millions of dollars are involved.

By an agreement between the two corporations the telegraph company was to receive 20 per cent. of the receipts of the telephone company for certain concessions.

In 1883 the Western Union discovered that certain receipts were not subjected to the 20 per cent. deduction and began an action for an accounting, involving seven or eight million dollars.

The suit by the Western Union was begun in the United States Circuit court for the district of Massachusetts and Judge Nelson appointed ex-Judge John Lowell as referee to hear the evidence.

Judge Lowell made his report a few months ago. He decided that the Western Union is not entitled to the accounting asked for. Since that report was made, the Western Union experts have searched the records of the Bell patents and the previous decisions of Judge Lowell in the Bell Telephone cases. Now the company will move to re-open the case, on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Should this motion be disallowed they will move to set aside Judge Lowell's report, on the ground that a surprising number of his near relatives hold large amounts of American Bell Telephone stock.

The Western Union will make its first motion in the United States court in Boston sometime this month. Ex-Judge John Lowell is a cousin of the late James Russell Lowell, and has the best blue blood in his veins.

He is very eminent in his profession and he has written two volumes on bankruptcy which have become standard authority.

MADE A GOOD HAUL.

Burglars Invade a Napoleon Store.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Silk Carried Away by Them.

Napoleon, O., Sept. 7.—(Special)—Sometime early Sunday morning or late Saturday night, burglars entered the dry goods house of D. and J. Wilson and succeeded in carrying away silks to the amount of $1,000.

The entrance was made through the back window, the sash being pulled down from above.

The other goods were not molested, neither was the small amount of cash left in the money drawer.

The thieves evidently entered the store for the express purpose of securing this silk which was temptingly displayed all day Saturday, and was the first line of goods next the window.

The marshal and sheriff were at once notified and are investigating the matter.

A QUESTION OF HOURS.

Turbulent State of Affairs in Hayti.

Hippolyte Expects an Attack to be Made Under the Lead of Legitime.

New York, Sept. 7.—The latest news from Hayti, brought by the steamship Adirondack, which arrived from Gonaives yesterday, is to the effect that President Hippolyte is in constant apprehension of an attack by the revolutionary exiles under the leadership of General Legitime.

All the Haytian ports are well garrisoned, and an extra guard protects the palace in Port-au-Prince.

The general feeling among merchants at the ports is that an outbreak in only a question of a short time.

BOILED IN LIME.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 7.—At noon Saturday the 2-year-old daughter of George Sams, while sitting on the fence watching her grandfather mix lime, lost her balance and fell headlong into the lime vat and was completely buried in the horrible mixture.

The child was rescued, bathed in warm water and rubbed with oil. The exposed portion of the body was horribly burned, and it is feared that some of the lime was forced down her throat. Her injuries are serious and probably fatal.

CREED MAKERS AT WORK

Progress Made by the Presbyterians.

A Sweeping Change is Demanded by Many.

Millions of People are Interested in the Discussions Now Taking Place

New York, Sept. 7.—The committee on a creed for use in all Presbyterian denominations has been holding summer meetings at Spring Lake Beach, N. J. Twenty-two million Presbyterians, members of the eighty-one communions on the five continents, are interested in the results.

This is the fourth session of the committee. The three previous sessions were held in New York city. It may be ten years before the work is completed.

The idea is to get up a short, concise creed to express the concensus of opinion in eighty-one Presbyterian bodies that will supplement, not supplant, the special creed of each.

Some Presbyterians subscribe to the Westminster confession, others to the Heidelberg confession, still others to the Augsberg confession. All are Calvinistic and all maintain a form of government designated as Presbyterian.

The first use of the creed will be in the missionary fields and in colonial settlements where Presbyterians are divided by fine distinctions into small bodies.

Another use will be to supply a popular creed for the 2,500,000 Presbyterians in the United States. A third use will be to supply the converted Brahmanists and Buddhists of the east with a plain statement of the Calvinistic doctrines.

Of the eighty-one organizations the chief are the two Presbyterian churches of the north and the south in the United States, the United Presbyterians, the Dutch Reformed, the two Scotch churches and the Evangelical Calvinistic churches of Ireland, England, Wales, Holland, Germany, France and Australia.

The committee established communication with fifty-one of these organizations. Some of the churches authorized co-operation in formulating a creed. Several have declined for the present to take action. These are Presbyterian church south, the United Presbyterian church of North America, the Presbyterian church of Ireland and the Reformed Presbpterian church of Scotland.

The committee was appointed by the Presbyterian general assembly of 1890. It was made up as follows: Rev Dr Wm H Moore, Columbus, O, chairman; Rev Dr Wm H Roberts, of Lane theological seminary, Cincinnati, secretary; Rev Dr John De Witt, of McCormick theological seminary, Chicago; Rev Dr Francis Brown, of Union theological seminary, New York; Rev Dr Benjamin B Warfield, of Princeton theological seminary, New Jersey, resigned; Rev Dr Howard Crosby, of New York, deceased; Elder Henry Day, of Dr John Hall's church, New York; Elder Robert N Wilson, of the Robert Barnes church, Philadelphia, and Elder E P Durant, of Albany. To Dr Crosby's place the Rev Dr Charles A Dickey, pastor of the Albert Barnes church, Philadelphia, was appointed and in place of Dr Warfield was named Rev Dr John T Duffield, of Princeton college. Of the committee, Drs Moore, Brown and Dickey and Elders Day and Wilson are known as liberals. They are Briggs men and favor a sweeping revision of the church's standards of faith and practice. The others are conservatives, but since revision has been ordered they are for revision to a limited extent. They are against Dr Briggs. The working force of the committee is anti-Briggs, anti-revision. Dr Brown is abroad and Lawyer Day is sick. Dr Dickey and Elder Wilson are not in attendance at Spring Lake beach.

As the complementary creed is about completed in a tentative form, it may be supposed to reflect the opinions of the minority. This creed will go before the next general assembly in Portland, Ore., next May.

It will not be cast by this committee in the mold of the apostles' creed, nor of the Nicene creed. Such a creed as this is what Dr. Briggs and his friends want. The committee is preparing a creed that will be more like a syllabus of the Westminster confession, stating in general terms the dogmas of John Calvin and set off in about twenty-four sections.

It is possible that before the 81 churches have done with this concensus creed it may have lost both its Calvinistic character and its sectional form. The committee is also engaged in revising the apostles' creed.

Presbyterian parents are required by the church to teach their children the creed. Two phrases have become obnoxious to many Christians and the last general assembly suggested striking them out. They are "He descended into hell" and "The holy Catholic church."

The first is objectionable to Presbyterians because it seems to be in line with the theories of a purgatory or of a second probation. The second contains the word Catholic, which is confounded with the name Roman Catholic church. The committee is to see whether the word "university" should not be substituted for Catholic.

Dr. John De Witt, of Chicago, was appointed a sub-committee to prepare a report on these two phases, to be submitted to the committee at its fall session. By that time Secretary Roberts expects to have responses from others of the 81 Presbyterian bodies.

DYNAMITE IN THE WHEAT.

Fatal Accident on a Farm Near Findlay.

A Barn Wrecked, Thresher Blown to Pieces and One Man Killed by the Explosion.

Findlay, O., Sept. 7—A frightful accident occurred on the farm of Samuel Brouner near this city Saturday afternoon by which William Mull lost his life and several others were injured.

A number of men were engaged in threshing wheat in a barn when a terrible explosion occurred, wrecking the machine and blowing parts of it through the roof of the building and injuring William Mull, who was feeding the machine, so badly that he died shortly after the accident.

An investigation discloses the fact that someone had concealed a dynamite cartridge in a sheaf of wheat which was fed into the machine with the results mentioned. No clue to the perpetrator.

WALTER GRESHAM'S CANDIDACY.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 7.—At a meeting of citizens of Galveston, Hon. Walter Gresham of this city was enthusiastically and unanimously indorsed for appointment to the position made vacant by the death of W. L. Bragg, of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

During the meeting several telegrams were read from Colorado, Kansas and Iowa indorsing Mr. Gresham's candidacy.

A FUND FOR SIGEL.

New York, Sept. 7.—Some strong German friends of General Franz Sigel are considering a plan to raise a fund for the old soldier by popular subscription. The general has been very unfortunate during the past few years and at present he is living from a pension of $100 a month, which was awarded him by congress a few months ago.

THIS IS LABOR DAY.

In order to permit the printers to enjoy this legal holiday, the Bee prints only four pages to-day and only one edition.

Postmaster Brown appeared in the republican convention by proxy—Bones was there.

The republican party in convention assembled has indorsed the public be d—d policy of Jacob Englehardt. Old Scratch will smother his policy in November.

The Forakerites stood Charles Andrew Flickinger up in a corner and made him pledge himself to help defeat John Sherman. Then they permitted him to be nominated.

Why should the street car companies take such a lively interest in the candidacy of Mr. Griffin. Did he specially aid them by legislation? Perhaps so. Very likely so.

The farmers of Lucas county are determined to smash the court house ring this fall and they will commence on Commissioner Englehardt. This is in the nature of prophesy that will be fulfilled.

The republican county convention last Saturday was a howling mob and its work was a dismal failure. Third termism was indorsed, the mal-administration of the county commissioners' office was commended and the fight between Foraker and Sherman was intensified. The people of Lucas county will settle the score on election day by defeating the republican ticket.

The Commercial allows its zeal to outrun its judgment when it couples Mr. M. P. Murphy, of the Bee, with natural gas matters which it does not approve. Mr. Murphy is not only a hustling newsgatherer, but a reliable and truthful reporter. He is an earnest and consistent pipe liner, as thousands of citizens are, but in the line of duty he is free from prejudice and hands in copy, and lots of it, with news that the Bee is pleased to print and which the people like to read.

The Iron Age, which ought to know, says: "A movement is on foot to organize an association among the manufacturers of corrugated iron roofing, the object being to fix and maintain prices." As the McKinleyed duty on corrugated iron sheets is $31.36 per ton, the new trust manipulators will have it all their own way, and the building trades will get another black eye. This hurts bricklayers, carpenters, roofers, painters and every man who gets out building material or helps put up a building. How the tariff does protect labor, to be sure. Let us hurrah some more for protection.

In his speech at Coshocton on Saturday, Candidate McKinley said: "I would rather go down carrying the republican flag of honesty than to capitulate to demagogy." Then the candidate went on to harangue the crowd about the soldiers losing $27,000,000 a year in depreciated pensions if free silver coinage shall be established. Was ever more rank demagogy publicly expressed? The American dollar, be it gold, silver or paper, represents the strength and faith of this government, and the purchasable power will not be lowered by placing gold and silver on the basis of their ancient equality. It is the class legislation of the high taxers and such monstrosities as the McKinley law that will lower the purchasable power of our money. McKinley should not talk about demagogy.

Thoughtful economists are asking whether the shortage of this year's crops in Europe may not have more enduring effect upon markets than appears at first sight. If Russian rye can not be procured to make the black bread which the German peasant eats may not the substitute of wheat bread be found so palatable than when choice can be made between the two it will be found that rye has lost its market? If Indian corn is generally used this year will there not be a demand for it next year? The London Standard is urging the substitution of corn for both wheat and rye where famine is threatened, and its good qualities will certainly be appreciated if once they are thoroughly tested.

Good news for Campbell and the Ohio democracy. Col. Editor Shepard will take the stump for McKinley. Having told the world's fair directors how to run the fair, he will come and tell the Buckeyes how to vote, beginning at Coshocton on the 17th inst. No effort should be spared to secure him for Toledo, for which purpose democrats can afford to contribute liberally. So far this city has had only two circuses this year.

ONE OF THE CANDIDATES.

The Hon. Jacob Romeis made the nominating speech in the republican county convention for Mr. Flickinger who wants to return to Columbus, this time as a representative in the legislature. The honorable ex-congressman called him Karl Flickinger. Now Karl is the real good German for Chasles, but Mr. Flickinger has not been enough of a German for twenty years to permit himself to be called Karl. Charles is more English, you know. We notice also that in the ante-convention biographical sketch of the ambitious gentleman his German descent is given special prominence. From this interlude we suppose the campaign play will largely partake of that racket. Now, lest some of our German citizens who are proud of their ancestry, should be captivated by this Flickingerism let it be known that within the memory of witnesses whose word is good, this same Mr. Flickinger denied his nationality and refused to talk German to customers in his own store—good, honest German customers who had known him from boyhood. That's the kind of a German he was before he wanted the votes of Germans. It is a matter of common knowledge that his associations for a number of years before he came to Toledo were seldom with Germans. He must understand that he is plain Charles Andrew Flickinger in this campaign and he cannot sail under false colors. Perhaps Hon. Jacob Romeis, who is an honest and honorable citizen, and a distinguished leader among the Germans of Toledo, never before heard how Andy "went back" on the Germans. He is now informed. No masquerading this campaign. A spade shall be called a spade.

THE NEW BEE BUILDING.

The following neat notice of the new Bee building appeared in the editorial columns of the Blade on Saturday:

Among the notable improvements here this summer is the elegant new building, erected on St. Clair street between Madison and Adams street, for the Toledo Bee company. It is of the most modern style of architecture, and reflects great credit upon the architect and builder. It is an ornament to the city, and will prove, it is to be hoped, the beginning of a new era in the building of business blocks. The Bee will be in its new home very soon and will then have one of the finest publishing offices in the country.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Of course Auditor-elect Charley Jones will lay awake at night figuring to help out Charley Griffin.

Mr. B. F. Reno closed his political career on Saturday. 'Squire Enright read his death knell.

Most of the government, county and city officials had headquarters at Druid hall all day Saturday.

Griffin will retire to his farm on Collingwood avenue for a few weeks, prior to opening his campaign.

Col. Lyttle presided 30 minutes by the watch, over and above the time he was quelling the disturbance.

L. W. Morris was not thought of for chairman after the returns were read from the Fourth ward.

Carl Beckham finally declared he was for Foraker. It was a Sherman convention, Carl, did you notice?

Why the anxiety to be coroner, was a question often propounded Saturday. A dozen doctors wanted the title.

Griffin has been nominated for the legislature, but he is yet several degrees removed from the title of "Mr. Speaker."

'Squire Enright has two lines of Shakspeare for every convention. He must be pretty near the end of the book.

The Bee points with pride to its report of the republican convention, with the accompanying statesmen. It couldn't be beat.

W. I. Squire—"I didn't want to go to the convention, anyway. It was full of hoodlums." There are no sour grapes in this remark.

Will John Kumler make the race for the senate after the drubbing he received Saturday? Most men would take to the woods.

Jake Englehardt will not use his favorite expression, "the public be d—d," for the next 60 days. The public are after Jake, just the same.

Was Chris Schneider in it? Not to any great extent. Chris was only working up a boom to run against Vince Emmick for congress next fall.

The Bee mentioned a few evenings since that the silvery-haired Flickinger was no youngster in politics. Did you observe his stride on that ballot Saturday?

Manchester's labors as chairman of the city committee went for naught. He was fourth in the races for representative Saturday. Republic(an)s are ungrateful.

"Bones" had an armful of Bees under his arm Saturday night distributing the same among the boys in the Second. He was proud of his picture; it was a daisy.

It looked for a few moments Saturday afternoon as if Banty Roulet would be in the race again this fall, but the convention steadied down and Beckwith picked the plum.

The defeat of the fee bill in the house may have considerable influence in connection with Griffin's re-election. The people favored that bill, even if the county officials did not.

Louis Nunn was defeated for police commissioner last spring, but he goes on the county committee from the Fifth to keep an eye on some of the gentlemen who helped in the massacre.

The Kumler boys were in bad shape last week. Fred was defeated for committeeman in the Third ward, and John was howled down in the convention. Had martial law better be proclaimed?

What kind of deal was involved in Jake Romeis, an anti-Shermanite, nominating Flickinger, who is a pronounced Sherman man? That's a poser many of the old heads are trying to solve. Let's know, Jake.

This is rubbing it in: The county central committee met at the close of the convention and re-elected Mr. J. C. Bonner by acclammation, and Horace Merrill, of Squire's ward, as secretary. 'Twas a cold day all around for the leaders.

There was no truth in the report that President Squire had league business in Columbus on Saturday. He remained over Labor day to discover, if possible, what hit him. Gus Wendt or Horace Merrill could tell him, but the president is too high strung to ask them.

Up to Saturday noon, according to the republican evening organ, there was only one opinion on the senatorial question, but it was evident from subsequent proceedings that there was a division of sentiment. In fact, Senator Sherman had several friends in the county convention, who treed two of the nominees for the legislature.

That was an awful snub Mayor Emmick received on Saturday—indeed it was cruel. Half a dozen from the First ward cried "Emmick," when some delegate sprang a motion to adjourn, and it was carried in a jiffy. Vince was prepared to answer the question, "Who am I, anyway?" as he had Mr. Read's letter of information in his pocket.

GOOD MEN AND TRUE.

Democrats to Take the Stump in Ohio.

The Whole Northwest Will Resound With the Eloquence of Noted Speakers.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of Pennsylvania, president of the National Association of Democratic clubs; Lawrence Gardiner, of this city, the secretary of the association; Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, Representatives McMillin of Tenesee, Bynum of Indiana and ex-Representative McAdoo of New Jersey, will leave in a few days for an extensive stumping tour of the northwest.

The will first go to Minneapolis where they will address the democracy of the twin cities, Minneapolis and St. Paul, after which they will make a tour of Washington, Montana, Oregon and probably California.

On their return they will make a stop of a week or ten days in Iowa, where they will take an active part in the gubernatorial campaign pending there. Thence they will go to Ohio where the battle royal takes place this fall. They will probably spend ten days in the Buckeye state.

The trip of Congressman William L. Wilson of West Virginia, through the northwest in the early summer was such a great success that it was decided by the Association of Democratic clubs to send out the present party. It includes some of the strongest and most effective democratic stumpers in the country, and Lawrence Gardiner, the secretary, is one of the best organizers.

Col. Isaac R. Hill of Newark, the democratic whip in the last house, who is supposed to know all the mysteries of Ohio politics, is in the city for a few days. "I do not think there is any doubt about Campbell's election," said he to-day.

"I never before felt as sure of a democratic victory. Every democrat in the state is satisfied with the party whether he was for against Campbell for the nomination, while, on the other hand, from 18 to 20 per cent. of the republicans are dissatisfied with the politics of their party.

The much-talked-of dissatisfaction among the democrats in Hamilton county will not amount to anything. All the democrats will vote their party ticket, and I believe as strongly as I ever believed anything in my life that Campbell will run ahead of his ticket."

HE BLEW OUT THE GAS

At the Burnett House—Joseph Deer Loses His Life Thereby.

At midnight last night, Joseph Deer, of Vermontville, Mich., died at the Burnett house, from asphyxiation. Mr. Deer was one of the late arrivals at the hotel Saturday night, and was given room number 42. Mr. Deer rested a little while in the office, and retired to his room about 12 o'clock.

Between 9 and 10 o clock Sunday morning the chambermaid attempted to get into his room to do her work, but the room was locked. The maid detected a strong odor of gas. This fact was told to Mr. Orchard, the clerk, who went up to the room.

Failing to arouse Mr. Deer by repeated knocking, the door was broken open. Mr. Deer was found lying across the bed, and only partly undressed, the gas turned on full.

As Mr. Deer was not yet dead, Dr. Woods was called, and, with the assistance of Dr. Jones, worked with the patient all day Sunday, but their efforts could not save him and he expired between 11 and 12 o'clcok last night.

Coroner Houlet was summoned and took charge of the body.

Mr. Deer was between 45 and 50 years old, and married. Word was received froom Michigan that his wife was visiting in Fremont. She was telegraphed for and arrived this morning.

How the accident happened no one can tell, except that the cause of his death was from the effects of inhaling the escaping gas.

How Corporations Love the Workingman.

The Fall River, Mass., Spinners to Meet and Discuss a Condition of Interest.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 7.—Secretary Howard, of the Spinners' union, to-day issued a call for a special meeting of spinners to be held next Wednesday evening, in which he says:

"We regret very much to have to announce the decision of the manufacturers' board of trade at their last meeting to reduce wages. We believe that the folly of such a line of action in the past had convinced manufacturers that cutting down the pay of operatives did not help to unload a glutted market, but tended to overload it still more, by decreasing the purchasing power of the people.

"Therefore, we were more than surprised when the news of the manufacturers' board of trade action came to our ears.

"Especially so when we considered the encouraging news predicting better times, from some of the leading commercial papers and interviews with some of the leading dry goods dealers in New York last week, in which all of them say that they are preparing for the largest business ever known, owing to the large crops of the country. Large transactions in other directions lead thoughtful business men to think that the tide is beginning to turn and the strengthening of the print cloth market this week justifies them somewhat in so thinking.

"For many years back all the improvements in the cloth market began toward the fall of the year. We think it would have been a wiser policy for manufacturers to have deferred action for some time longer and awaited the result of the fall trade."

THE PARTY OF JEFFERSON.

CENTRAL AVENUE ROAD.

Opinion From Prosecutor Barber Relative to the Same.

Readers of the Bee will remember that at the session of the commissioners following the examination of the Central Avenue stone road, a resolution was adopted requesting Mr. Barber, the board's adviser, to inform the commissioners of their duty. This morning he filed the following opinion:

Toledo, O., Sept. 5, 1891.

To the Commissioners of Lucas County, Ohio:

In response to your resolution of September 3d, requiring me to recommend in writing a proper course for your board to pursue in the matter of the dispute respecting the measurement of masonry on stone road number thirteen, I submit the following:

I recommend that you proceed at once to get at the truth of the matter in dispute. It is charged by impartial and competent men who have made measurements there that there is a shortage in the masonry, and that Engineer George C. Meissner, whom you employed and sent out to ascertain for you the truth of the matter, has made serious and strange mistakes in his re-measurements of portions of said masonry. So I recommend that you ascertain for yourselves the truth concerning the measurements and determine just what shortage there is.

I am advised that you have in good faith paid in full for this masonry, but that there is still due the contractors money from you upon the final estimate of the macadam upon the road. I therefore advise you that the amount overpaid for said masonry is a valid offset in law against the claim of the contractors on this final estimate, and I recommend that having found out what the over-payment is, if any, that the same be presented to the contractors and the matter compromised and adjused amicably if possible.

If there has been an over-measurement honestly and unintentionally made and paid forfflit ought to be honestly settled and adjusted as soon as the same is discovered and conceded by the contractors. In case the facts cannot be agreed upon, or the shortage that you find is not conceded, I recommend that you require a suit to be brought by the contractors upon the final estimate and submit the matter to the courts. They will ascertain the truth, decide the disputed points between you and end the matter forever.

J. A. BARBER,
Prosecuting Attorney.

AT THE THEATERS.

This evening both theaters will open with attractions for a week's engagement, at the People's the popular Irish play, Ivy Leaf, and at Wheeler's The County Fair. Both are good pieces, and both will doubtless do a good business, as it is Exposition week.

WILL BIULD SOME RESIDENCES.

Mr. G. G. Hadley has closed a contract with Messrs. Sheehy & Dirkman, the builders of the new Bee building, for erecting one large single residence and one double house on Warren street, near Madison. It is expected the buildings will be ready for occupancy by early spring, and one of them has already been rented to Mr. J. J. Lasalle, the dry goods merchant. Mr. Hadley proposes building a style of houses that will be an ornament to that part of the city.

CALL FOR COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Secretary Van Fleet has issued a call for a meeting of the democratic county central committee on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at his office in the produce exchange building. It is expected that at this meeting the time of holding the convention for the nomination of county officers will be determined, and every member is requested to be present.

WANT TO COME TO TOLEDO

Mr. G. G. Hadley is in receipt of a letter from a manufacturer of stoves and ranges at Detroit, who is desirous of removing his plant to Toledo, where he can enlarge and increase his capacity. As Toledo has no manufactory of this kind, it would be a valuable acquisition to the city, and parties interested in this class of manufacturing and who care to learn the particulars, can obtain them from Mr. Hadley.

LOOKING OVER THE BOOKS.

The semi-annual examination of the books and accounts of Mr. S. A. Court, grand keeper of records, and Mr. Otto P. Snyder, of Tiffin, grand master of exchequer, is in progress to-day at the grand lodge office in the Pythian castle. The finance committee is composed of the following representatives: Edmund Hitchens, Cleveland; J. W. Greene, Toledo; W. W. Gunther, Chillicothe; E. A. Tucker, Cincinnati; C. J. Deckman, Malvern. Col. Williams, the grand chancellor, is also here.

THIS IS LABOR DAY.

The Bee has printed from day to day the arrangements which have been made for to-day's celebration, and it is scarcely necessary to repeat them in detail. The parade will start at 1 o'clock, and will move on Jefferson to Huron, to Monroe, to St. Clair, to Jefferson, to Superior, to Cherry, to Summit, to Broadway, and out to Bellevue park. The Wabash and Clover Leaf roads, steamboats, and the various street railroad lines have made ample arrangements to carry the crowds. The games are numerous, the prizes worth competing for, and on the whole an enjoyable time can be anticipated.

EVERYTHING IS LOVELY.

The city is dressed in its best to-day. Summit street is gay with banners and bunting, and many private residences about town are similarly decked. The street cars are flying the national colors fore and aft, and little flags are sticking out from behind the horses' ears. The stores and offices closed at noon, and altogether it is a big picnic all around. At 1 o'clock the parade starts and it promises to be a big affair. The program for the day has been published in the Bee in full and everybody will be on hand when the band plays Annie Laurie and lots of other things.

J. B. BULLY ARRESTED

For Tampering With the U. S. Mail.

The Well Known Organist Arrested Yesterday and He Lies in Jail Pending an Examination.

Somewhat of a sensation was created yesterday morning by the report that John B. Bully, the well-known organist of this city, had been arrested for tampering with the mails and extracting money from letters addressed to other parties.

This report was verified by U. S. Commissioner Hall, who stated to a Bee this morning that Bully had been arrested at the instigation of the U. S. Government and will have an examination this afternoon.

It appears that Bully sometime ago started the New Era Oil Crayon Manufacturing company, and the letters, which it is claimed were abstracted and opened, were addressed to the New Era Manufacturing Co., formerly of this city, and now of Batavia, N. Y. Bully was placed in jail yesterday, and remains there pending an examination before Commissioner Hall.

American naval officers are men of many clothes, and the official etiquette to dress aboard ship is appalling to a landsman Every officer must have four or five styles of hats and caps, at least as many different kinds of coats, and even prescribed styles of neckties in considerable variety. The captain ordinarily prescribes the uniform for the day, but when a flagship is within signaling distance of another man-of-war the admiral is the authority on clothes as on other things. To appear on deck with the wrong necktie is to invite a reprimand. Subalterns, who are a good deal given to grumbling, insist that most commanders prescribe the uniform of the day without considering the thermometer with the result that everybody swelters in thick blue broadcloth on hot days and shivers in white duck when the weather is cool.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Kate Evoy was fined $75 and costs in police court Saturday afternoon for keeping a house of ill-fame.

An alarm of fire at 3:50 this morning from box 561 called the department to the O. C. round-house in East Toledo.

If the party who took a bag from the boat ancnored off Eagle Point Saturday afternoon will return it with all its contents to owner, he will pay him $25 and ask no questions.

Detective Manley arrived from Zanesville Saturday evening, having in charge C. F. Horning, the forger arrested there and wanted here in Toledo. Mr. Horning was locked up and will have a preliminary hearing in police court.

Stephen Radcliff, of Ross township, Wood county, reports to the police that his rig was stolen from in front of John Emick's place at the east end of Starr avenue, opposite Barker's cider mill, at about 10 o'clock last night.

A C., H. & D. switchman named Wood, living on Knapp street, was injured at the company's yards Saturday night. McGlynn's ambulance took his home.

Many people would like to have the electric light in their houses for other than ordinary illuminating purposes. In such weather as we have had during the past week a cool light to read by or to use in the piano lamp is a godsend. Hitherto this has been a difficult matter for many to procure; they may be far away from the mains, and even if they are not, a connection and laying of wires all over the house for such a small quantity of light as they are likely to require is out of the question. For such as these an electric reading lamp outfit, which has just appeared, will be particularly useful. The battery is put up in a case quite convenient to handle. The elements are attached to the under side of a movable board, which can be raised and lowered at will. The zincs are by this means lifted out of the liquid or lowered, as required. There is a lid at the side of the box, which, when open, gives easy access to the battery. The lamp is portable and can be adjusted to any position. The light rays are concentrated on the desk, book or music, and are of sufficient intensity to enable one to read or write without fatigue of the eyes. On the ground of health and care of eyesight alone it is a distinct boon to the public.

There is just one building on Broadway, New York, which retains its sloping, slate roof and old-fashioned dormer windows. It stands opposite the south gate of old Trinity, and is peculiar because the side and top of the windows, as well as the roof, are covered with slate, as was the fashion in the early part of the present century.

A BEDLAMIC SCENE.

A Slap by Republicans at Organized Labor.

The Beckwith Roorback and Who Prepared It.

A Riot Narrowly Averted—Enright's Dramatic Eloquence—How Henzler Was Beaten.

The afternoon session of the republican convention Saturday was characterized by the most turbulent, noisy and disgraceful scene ever witnessed in any convention ever held in Lucas county. By reason of it much bad blood was engendered, and a few party wounds were made, which will not be healed during the present campaign, nor for many campaigns to come.

Besides creating personal animosities the convention of republicans struck a blow at organized labor that will not soon be forgotten by the labor unions in the city of Toledo.

While the labor unions were not directly responsible for the introduction of the Beckwith circular, it was prepared by a committee of three appointed by the Painters' union. No sooner had the convention noted its meaning, than it repudiated the circular and its creators and nominated the man it was intended to defeat.

After the convention had nominated Hunter for treasurer, Stuart for sheriff, and Englehart for commissioner by acclamation announcement of names of candidates for coroner were called for. In a few minutes Drs. Henzler, Aris, Beckwith, Howe, Reynolds and Undertaker J. N. Miller had been announced to the convention. A ballot was ordered which resulted as follows: Henzler, 113; Beckwith, 87; Aris, 37; Miller, 36; Howe, 18; Reynolds, 2; Roulet, 1.

A second ballot was ordered. Just then those who were not engaged in the convention noticed a couple of men enter the door bearing arm loads of circulars which they began to scatter broadcast through the hall. The circular was a roorback against Dr. Beckwith, and was as follows:

BECKWITH DENOUNCED—UNION LABOR REPUBLICANS—DELEGATES TAKE NOTICE.

How can you support S. W. Beckwith for coroner? You know as member of the board of education, he with others, gave the painting of the school houses to scab labor. How can you trust him for coroner? Cut him in the convention. See resolution passed by the Central Labor union, July 2, 1891, copy of which is as follows.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we denounce the action of the school board in not properly notifying the public of their intention to paint the school buildings, and further, from awarding the contracts to the employers of non-union labor.

Resolved, That the Central Labor union of Toledo, representing over 3,000 voters, do hereby publicly express their great dissatisfaction with the awarding of contracts for city work to contractors who are known to employ non-union help, thereby throwing our union men out of work, making it difficult for them to pay rent and keep their families, respectively; that we also believe it injurious to the general trade of the city by paying unfair wages and employing incompetent non-resident scab workmen who spend their earnings in other towns.

Resolved, That this body pledges itself to strongly oppose and do its utmost, to defeat for office any employer of non-union workmen.

Resolved, That we hereby request both political parties not to nominate for office any man who is known to be an enemy to organized labor, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to each daily paper in the city.

As soon as the convention became aware of the contents of the circular it became quiet for a moment and then burst forth into a mighty roar of fierce indignation. The scene beggared description.

"Be quiet, gentlemen," shouted the chairman. "This is a republican convention, not a mob."

When order had been finally restored the chair recognized Enright, who said:

"Gentlemen: Republican conventions are noted for their fairness, and I say that any man who has a spark of manhood in his make up will denounce this infamous circular. (Cheers.) Any candidate who would resort to such a piece of villainy to secure a nomination, should be sat upon, now and forever. (Cheers.) I hope that the candidate who has sprung this will be ignominiously defeated." (Cheers.)

Dr. Henzler finally obtained recognition from the chair.

"You are badly mistaken," said Dr. Henzler, "I knew the circular was going to be introduced, but I could not prevent it. It was not in my interest, indeed it was not, gentlemen," pleaded he.

Ed. Lease sprang upon the reporter's table and said:

"Gentlemen, Frank Reno is the man who brought that circular to this hall. I met him a moment ago in the stairway with them."

"Who is Reno?" inquired a delegate from the county.

"Dr. Henzler's lieutenant," shouted Enright, pointing his finger dramatically at Henzler.

"It is not true," vociferated the latter.

"It is true," shouted Enright. "He has been working for you for a week, and I can prove it."

At this juncture, a thin voice in the rear of the room shouted "Mistah Chahman, Mistah Chahman." All eyes turned in that direction, and the form of "Bones" Robison, the postoffice janitor, was seen on a chair, with the pallor of death on his black face.

"I brot dem cir'clars heah," said Bones, and he had no more than said the words before a half-dozen men had him by the neck, dragging him toward the chairman's desk.

"Let him tell where he got them," shouted the convention.

"I don't want to hear him," said Chairman Hamilton.

The second ballot resulted:

Beckwith, 147; Henzler, 113; Aris, 16; Howe, 7.

Third ballot:

Beckwith, 157; Henzler, 73; Aris, 6; Howe, 6; Roulet, 11; Woods, 10.

Dr. Beckwith's nomination was made unanimous.

The chairman then appointed a committee to investigate the circular business, after which W. W. Coder was nominated by acclamation for infirmary director and the convention adjourned.

DODGING THE BIG DEBTS.

Some Fancy Figuring by Secretary Foster.

How He Intends to Keep the Public in Ignorance

In Order to Hide the Terrible Inroads Reed's Billion Dollar Congress Has Made in the Country's Assets.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The indulgent public, and that part of it particularly that is inclined, by reason of its great faith in the truthfulness of its party leaders, to accept without question the reports of the secretary of the treasury, may believe fully the explanations that are being sent out to supplement the scanty debt statement of the first of the month.

That debt statement was intended to show that the government has as available assets the large sum of more than $60,000,000 with which to meet all demands upon it.

As a matter of fact, wherever that impression has been made there has been a deceived person. If the treasury had at its command $60,000,000, or even half the amount, Secretary Foster would at once, and with a great deal of satisfaction, call in and redeem the 4½ per cents., amounting to about $27,000,000, that became due and payable.

It has been seen for months that there would be difficulty in satisfying the appropriations of the Billion-Dollar congress and the bondholders at the same time.

In order to meet demands that could not be evaded, the treasury has been declining to pay many of the appropriations, some of which were of large amounts, the secretary finding it convenient to say that the appropriations were made out of money not otherwise appropriated, and, as there was no money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, he could not pay the appropriation.

Several Indian appropriations, aggregating probably $3,000,000, were included in this category. The chance of their being paid soon is very slim indeed.

Instead of calling upon the creditors of the government who hold the 4½ per cents to come forward and receive the face value of their bonds, as the secretary would do if he had the money, he announces, as if he were conferring a great favor upon them that the time for extending the 4½ per cents at 2 per cent will be continued indefinitely.

That means plainly enough that he has not the money with which to pay them; that he be allowed to pay unauthorized interest, and that he must have time in which to save up the millions necessary to discharge the indebtedness.

This situation makes the parade of figures to lead the people to believe that there are $60,000,000 of available assets in the treasury seem like a very cheap and demagogic trick.

So near the end of his tether has the secretary gone that he is considering whether he shall not draw from the depositories the sum of $3,000,000 with which to meet the immediate demands for redemption of the 4½ per cents.

Should he get the $3,000,000 that he wants he will still have several millions less than the amount of the bonds outstanding.

If the whole amount outstanding should be presented at once he would be embarrassed: Some reliance is undoubtedly placed upon the forbearance of the bondholders to come in when Mr. Foster is in better financial condition.

The unofficial statements of the available cash make it to be $18,000,000, but to those who do not hold on to odds and ends of a doubtful character, as do the statement-makers of the treasury, it appears to be little more than $13,000,000. This would not be so bad, perhaps, if the income of the government were as good as it was a year ago, when Reed's "Business" congress was passing the bills that are bringing the treasury into awkward straits. As it is, the income for two months for the present years, with its inflated expenses, is far behind that of a like period in the last year.

Already it is intimated that Mr. Foster does not intend to attempt to pay all the appropriations made by the "Billion" congress, but to let them go over to be taken out of the revenues of the next year.

The democrats of the Fifty-second congress would be obliged to be economical for the sake of contrast and good example, but with the remnants of republican debt facing them, it begins to look as if they would not be in position to make generous appropriations for many undertakings that need to have continuous support.

Until congress meets and some member shall call upon the treasury to render an account that will be intelligible, it will not be possible to tell how much short of funds the treasury was in August, 1891, but it is plain that if all obligations now due were paid there would be a deficiency.

Trickery has served to keep from the public the true state of affairs in the hope of averting that proper indignation that would be felt against the billion dollar congress and its managers if the exact truth was known about the effects of its extravagance.

The Tortures of the Inquisition inflicted by the dread Torquemada have abominable prototypes in the shape of chronic rheumatism and neuralgia. Attack these agonising complaints before they reach the chronic stage with the superb blood depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will assuredly expel their virus from the life stream. To procrastinate is to encourage the growth of incipient rheumatism, which rapidly tightens its grip upon the system. It is the very octopus of diseases, and painful indeed is the clasp of its dreadful tentacles. Be prompt, therefore, take time by the forelock, always remembering that both rheumatism and gout, close relatives, are dangerous as well as painful. Debility, chills and fever, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness and kidney disease succumb to the Bitters. Appetite and the ability to sleep well are improved by it.

THE TOLEDO EXPOSITION

Starts Off To-Day With a Crowd of Exhibitors

Putting Things in Shape for the Week's Display—The Events on the Race Course for Four Days.

The annual fair of the Toledo Exposition opened up to-day. Generally the first day is taken up by exhibitors in arranging their displays, hence the attendance of visitors is almost out of the question. It is safe to say that the fair of this year will exceed those of past years. The available space is nearly all taken up, and there never was a better exhibit of live stock. By to-morrow everything will be in shape, and the crowds can pour in as soon as they like. The exposition is in the hands of enterprising Toledoans, and their efforts should be appreciated. The BEE bespeaks a liberal patronage during the whole of the week.

The race track, as usual, will be the attraction for many, and some fine horses are already entered. The program each day follows:

TUESDAY.

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

A BEDLAMIC SCENE.

A Slap by Republicans at Organized Labor.

The Beckwith Roorback and Who Prepared It.

A Riot Narrowly Averted—Enright's Dramatic Eloquence—How Henzler Was Beaten.

The afternoon session of the republican convention Saturday was characterized by the most turbulent, noisy and disgraceful scene ever witnessed in any convention ever held in Lucas county. By reason of it much bad blood was engendered, and a few party wounds were made, which will not be healed during the present campaign, nor for many campaigns to come.

Besides creating personal animosities the convention of republicans struck a blow at organized labor that will not soon be forgotten by the labor unions in the city of Toledo:

While the labor unions were not directly responsible for the introduction of the Beckwith circular, it was prepared by a committee of three appointed by the Painters' union. No sooner had the convention noted its meaning, than it repudiated the circular and its creators and nominated the man it was intended to defeat.

After the convention had nominated Hunter for treasurer, Stuart for sheriff, and Englehart for commissioner by acclamation announcement of names of candidates for coroner were called for. In a few minutes Drs. Henzler, Aris, Beckwith, Howe, Reynolds and Undertaker J. N. Miller had been announced to the convention. A ballot was ordered which resulted as follows: Henzler, 113; Beckwith, 87; Aris, 37; Miller, 36; Howe, 18; Reynolds, 2; Roulet, 1.

A second ballot was ordered. Just then those who were not engaged in the convention noticed a couple of men enter the door bearing arm loads of circulars which they began to scatter broadcast through the hall. The circular was a roorback against Dr. Beckwith, and was as follows:

BECKWITH DENOUNCED—UNION LABOR REPUBLICANS—DELEGATES TAKE NOTICE.

How can you support S. W. Beckwith for coroner? You know as member of the board of education, he with others, gave the painting of the school houses to scab labor. How can you trust him for coroner? Cut him in the convention. See resolution passed by the Central Labor union, July 2, 1891, copy of which is as follows.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we denounce the action of the school board in not properly notifying the public of their intention to paint the school buildings, and further, from awarding the contracts to the employers of non-union labor.

Resolved, That the Central Labor union of Toledo, representing over 3,000 voters, do hereby publicly express their great dissatisfaction with the awarding of contracts for city work to contractors who are known to employ non-union help, thereby throwing our union men out of work, making it difficult for them to pay rent and keep their families, respectively; that we also believe it injurious to the general trade of the city by paying unfair wages and employing incompetent non-resident scab workmen who spend their earnings in other towns.

Resolved, That this body pledges itself to strongly oppose and do its utmost, to defeat for office any employer of non-union workmen.

Resolved, That we hereby request both political parties not to nominate for office any man who is known to be an enemy to organized labor, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to each daily paper in the city.

As soon as the convention became aware of the contents of the circular it became quiet for a moment and then burst forth into a mighty roar of fierce indignation. The scene beggared description.

"Be quiet, gentlemen," shouted the chairman. "This is a republican convention, not a mob."

When order had been finally restored the chair recognized Enright, who said:

"Gentlemen: Republican conventions are noted for their fairness, and I say that any man who has a spark of manhood in his make up will denounce this infamous circular. (Cheers.) Any candidate who would resort to such a piece of villainy to secure a nomination, should be sat upon, now and forever. (Cheers.) I hope that the candidate who has sprung this will be ignominiously defeated." (Cheers.)

Dr. Henzler finally obtained recognition from the chair.

"You are badly mistaken," said Dr. Henzler, "I knew the circular was going to be introduced, but I could not prevent it. It was not in my interest, indeed it was not, gentlemen," pleaded he.

Ed. Lease sprang upon the reporter's table and said:

"Gentlemen, Frank Reno is the man who brought that circular to this hall. I met him a moment ago in the stairway with them."

"Who is Reno?" inquired a delegate from the county.

"Dr. Henzler's lieutenant," shouted Enright, pointing his finger dramatically at Henzler.

"It is not true," vociferated the latter.

"It is true," shouted Enright. "He has been working for you for a week, and I can prove it."

At this juncture, a thin voice in the roar of the room shouted "Mistah Chahman, Mistah Chahman." All eyes turned in that direction, and the form of "Bones" Robison, the postoffice janitor, was seen on a chair, with the pallor of death on his black face.

"I brot dem cir'clars heah," said Bones, and he had no more than said the words before a half-dozen men had him by the neck, dragging him toward the chairman's desk.

"Let him tell where he got them," shouted the convention.

"I don't want to hear him," said Chairman Hamilton.

The second ballot resulted:

Beckwith, 147; Henzler, 113; Aris, 16; Howe, 7.

Third ballot:

Beckwith, 157; Henzler, 73; Aris, 6; Howe, 6; Roulet, 11; Woods, 10.

Dr. Beckwith's nomination was made unanimous.

The chairman then appointed a committee to investigate the circular business, after which W. W. Coder was nominated by acclamation for infirmary director and the convention adjourned.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD IT.

Working is one half of life, suffering is the other; so why permit children to suffer, mothers, when you can prevent it so easily as this? Read carefully: Mrs. Edward Gagle of 335 Howard avenue, New Haven, writes: I have used Dr. Hand's Remedies for children for my babe since its birth, and can recommend them to all mothers as safe, reliable, and as represented by Dr. hand, who is considered to be one of the leaaing and most successful physicians in Scranton, Pa., or that section of the state. DODGING THE BIG DEBTS.

Some Fancy Figuring by Secretary Foster.

How He Intends to Keep the Public in Ignorance

In Order to Hide the Terrible Inroads Reed's Billion Dollar Congress Has Made in the Country's Assets.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The indulgent public, and that part of it particularly that is inclined, by reason of its great faith in the truthfulness of its party leaders, to accept without question the reports of the secretary of the treasury, may believe fully the explanations that are being sent out to supplement the scanty debt statement of the first of the month.

That debt statement was intended to show that the government has as available assets the large sum of more than $60,000,000 with which to meet all demands upon it.

As a matter of fact, wherever that impression has been made there has been a deceived person. If the treasury had at its command $60,000,000, or even half the amount, Secretary Foster would at once, and with a great deal of satisfaction, call in and redeem the 4½ per cents., amounting to about $27,000,000, that became due and payable.

It has been seen for months that there would be difficulty in satisfying the appropriations of the Billion-Dollar congress and the bondholders at the same time.

In order to meet demands that could not be evaded, the treasury has been declining to pay many of the appropriations, some of which were of large amounts, the secretary finding it convenient to say that the appropriations were made out of money not otherwise appropriated, and, as there was no money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, he could not pay the appropriation.

Several Indian appropriations, aggregating probably $3,000,000, were included in this category. The chance of their being paid soon is very slim indeed.

Instead of calling upon the creditors of the government who hold the 4½ per cents to come forward and receive the face value of their bonds, as the secretary would do if he had the money, he announces, as if he were conferring a great favor upon them that the time for extending the 4½ per cents at 2 per cent will be continued indefinitely.

That means plainly enough that he has not the money with which to pay them; that he be allowed to pay unauthorized interest, and that he must have time in which to save up the millions necessary to discharge the indebtedness.

This situation makes the parade of figures to lead the people to believe that there are $60,000,000 of available assets in the treasury seem like a very cheap and demagogic trick.

So near the end of his tether has the secretary gone that he is considering whether he shall not draw from the depositories the sum of $3,000,000 with which to meet the immediate demands for redemption of the 4½ per cents.

Should he get the $3,000,000 that he wants he will still have several millions less than the amount of the bonds outstanding.

If the whole amount outstanding should be presented at once he would be embarrassed: Some reliance is undoubtedly placed upon the forbearance of the bondholders to come in when Mr. Foster is in better financial condition.

The unofficial statements of the available cash make it to be $18,000,000, but to those who do not hold on to odds and ends of a doubtful character, as do the statement-makers of the treasury, it appears to be little more than $13,000,000. This would not be so bad, perhaps, if the income of the government were as good as it was a year ago, when Reed's "Business" congress was passing the bills that are bringing the treasury into awkward straits. As it is, the income for two months for the present years, with its inflated expenses, is far behind that of a like period in the last year.

Already it is intimated that Mr. Foster does not intend to attempt to pay all the appropriations made by the "Billion" congress, but to let them go over to be taken out of the revenues of the next year.

The democrats of the Fifty-second congress would be obliged to be economical for the sake of contrast and good example, but with the remnants of republican debt facing them, it begins to look as if they would not be in position to make generous appropriations for many undertakings that need to have continuous support.

Until congress meets and some member shall call upon the treasury to render an account that will be intelligible, it will not be possible to tell how much short of funds the treasury was in August, 1891, but it is plain that if all obligations now due were paid there would be a deficiency.

Trickery has served to keep from the public the true state of affairs in the hope of averting that proper indignation that would be felt against the billion dollar congress and its managers if the exact truth was known about the effects of its extravagance.

The Tortures of the Inquisition inflicted by the dread Torquemada have abominable prototypes in the shape of chronic rheumatism and neuralgia. Attack these agonising complaints before they reach the chronic stage with the superb blood depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will assuredly expel their virus from the life stream. To procrastinate is to encourage the growth of incipient rheumatism, which rapidly tightens its grip upon the system. It is the very octopus of diseases, and painful indeed is the clasp of its dreadful tentacles. Be prompt, therefore, take time by the forelock, always remembering that both rheumatism and gout, close relatives, are dangerous as well as painful. Debility, chills and fever, billious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness and kidney disease succumb to the Bitters. Appetite and the ability to sleep well are improved by it.

THE TOLEDO EXPOSITION

Starts Off To-Day With a Crowd of Exhibitors

Putting Things in Shape for the Week's Display—The Events on the Race Course for Four Days.

The annual fair of the Toledo Exposition opened up to-day. Generally the first day is taken up by exhibitors in arranging their displays, hence the attendance of visitors is almost out of the question. It is safe to say that the fair of this year will exceed those of past years. The available space is nearly all taken up, and there never was a better exhibit of live stock. By to-morrow everything will be in shape, and the crowds can pour in as soon as they like. The exposition is in the hands of enterprising Toledoans, and their efforts should be appreciated. The BEE bespeaks a liberal patronage during the whole of the week.

The race track, as usual, will be the attraction for many, and some fine horses are already entered. The program each day follows:
